Investment Objective Strategy One Fund

Strategy One Fund has a three to five year investment horizon. The Fund invests in a mixture of stocks, bonds and funds that are diversified amongst themselves. The investment allocation has two main characteristics: firstly, allocation is fairly dynamic among asset classes in an attempt to capture opportunities that emerge periodically. The second feature is a clear preference to fund managers that have been known to the team for many years. Due to the longstanding relationship with some of these managers and the economies of scale, Strategy One Fund has an opportunity to invest in funds and shareclasses that are not open to most private investors, saving the unit holder considerable costs.

* The track record prior to the launch of the fund (May 1, 2012) relates to the unaudited performance of the total personal portfolio of Hein Jurgens, drawn from historical records. The performance is net of brokerage and custody fees as they were charged. The performance does not take Investment Fund costs into account. This historical track record is for illustration purposes only. The fund performance is based on the returns of the initial series A.

Monthly comment

Bourses continued their upward trajectory. Progress in trade negotiations between US and China and a more stable political backdrop in the UK contributed to the bullish sentiment. After many months of trade related conflict, relations between the US and China showed tentative signs of improvement in Q4 and an agreement to sign "Phase One" of a new trade deal. In Europe macro data remains soft, but we saw a stabilization of the low absolute levels in Q4. Gold continued to move higher too, an outlier as it is normally a hedge against "worry", as it was mostly affected by continuous buying from non-western central banks. Sterling took a breather as most of the "good news" seems to be priced in.

Within the portfolio, the main distractions came from Alken (-1.8%), where there was further negative speculation on their largest holding and Unilever that issued a revenue warning. On the positive side our gold positions performed well, Golden Prospect +25% and Chaarat on the back of positive corporate news adding 15%. Other notable winners were Apple that has nearly doubled during the year and Nomad foods on the back of strong results. Within the funds, Adelphi performed strongly, and Fidelity China was up 6% on the back of the future trade announcement between the US and China. We have continued to hedge most of our Sterling positions as we are very much aware that many hurdles will need to be overcome in the coming year for the UK, to secure a positive trade deal with the EU.

In all we are very confident in the future and see ample opportunities on the long side, but also on the short side for the year ahead. We would like to thank our participants for their support over the past year.
