Investment Objective Strategy One Fund

Strategy One Fund has a three to five year investment horizon. The Fund invests in a mixture of stocks, bonds and funds that are diversified amongst themselves. The investment allocation has two main characteristics: firstly, allocation is fairly dynamic among asset classes in an attempt to capture opportunities that emerge periodically. The second feature is a clear preference to fund managers that have been known to the team for many years. Due to the longstanding relationship with some of these managers and the economies of scale, Strategy One Fund has an opportunity to invest in funds and shareclasses that are not open to most private investors, saving the unit holder considerable costs.

* The track record prior to the launch of the fund (May 1, 2012) relates to the unaudited performance of the total personal portfolio of Hein Jurgens, drawn from historical records. The performance is net of brokerage and custody fees as they were charged. The performance does not take Investment Fund costs into account. This historical track record is for illustration purposes only. The fund performance is based on the returns of the initial series A.

Monthly comment

Equity markets enjoyed another positive month, the MSCI World in Euro ending up well over one percent. Bond markets on the other hand continued to see headwinds on continued worries about inflation. What has been most striking so far this year is that earnings delivery has been exceptional, with EPS growth surprising by over 20% versus already elevated expectations, in both the US and Europe. In fact, earnings growth, at +50% y/y in the US and at +42% y/y in Europe, is significantly higher than the levels implied by the acceleration in activity momentum.

Your fund performed well during the month of April, with a "normalisation" in financial markets. This meant that our hedge fund positions generally performed well, Third Point, Adelphi and Egerton up between 5 and 9 percent. Our Pharma positions performed poorly as the threat of higher interest rates reduces the attractiveness of high growth stocks with little earnings. Syncona lost 7 percent as it is purely exposed to the biotech sector. Roche and Novartis both lost around 3 percent.

While markets continue to fret about the looming spike in inflation, they are forgetting to look through the noisy data and better understand the drivers of this inflation. Inflation was always going to jump on a year-on-year basis given the situation we found ourselves in last year, as well as the deflationary environment we have experienced over the last decade. But given how markets have responded, they appear worried about this inflation sticking around for some time and forcing central banks to respond sooner than they would like with rate rises.

We are confident in our positioning and see ample opportunities going forward. ☑
